

REACH OUT FOR GOD

“You should know that when I reach out to My children, that it is critical that they listen. How I long for all My creations to recognize the realm that they do not see, for this is faith, and faith is what is required for salvation. Too many harbor their own simplistic notion of what physical existence is, and if this does not include the eternal and the spiritual, they are severely disabled in their strivings to be good and acceptable, not only to men which is the focus of most, but more importantly, to God...to Whom they will always need to edify and love.

God provides all the tools necessary in order to recognize Him in His Word, in His creations, and in all the prophecies by men, now and in the past. All one needs to do is to open the heart and recognize the spiritual through the innate sense that God has given to everyone. The world that you live in was not created to be the focus of your life, and your life was not created to revolve around the world and the things of the world, rather it was designed to be in constant communion with God and to the higher things of creation and all that is good.

To be in communion with God is not fantasy, it is just a prayer and an open heart away; and in order for a human to experience God's Presence, all he needs to do is to relate, then listen...and again, relate and listen. God will be faithful to answer in one of a number of ways, but if your heart is open you will hear and you will hear conclusively. This type of meditation and connection with God will aid in all aspects of your life, health, and interactions, with all that is real in the created world; and as you progress in your relationship with God, it will even enhance your security and safety as you learn to utilize your guardian angel to actively watch over you during all times of your life.

Do not deny the existence of the spiritual realm that exists parallel to your realm that you see with your five senses, for it is far more powerful and active than the one that you recognize with your physical senses. Transition into the spiritual and draw close to God, for when you do, He will draw close to you; and you will gain the wisdom, grace, mercy, and all ingredients necessary for salvation. Stretch your understanding of your reality and push forward towards God and your life will be enriched, and indeed your eternity and your place in eternity will also be enriched. No one in the hereafter has regretted one moment of obedience and communion to God, for it all is counted and all that is counted reflects in eternity.

Be not limited by your preconceived notions of what your reality consists of, reach out and learn about the realms that are yours to behold. It is all there for you—just reach out for it and love God with your whole heart, soul, mind, and strength, and you will be amazed at the positive transitions in your life.

There is nothing better than this for your human development and your eternal spiritual development. Be wise, and reach out to that which you do not know.

Blessings in your search for Truth,

Ruach HaKodesh”
