

OBEDIENCE

“When I tell My faithful exactly what they should do and at what time they should do it, it needs to be done. All that I initiate is in My Plan and it is designed for the best outcome and any variation in the timing of events will render an inferior outcome. This is why strict obedience is so important.

You are not being obedient to an incompetent ruler, teacher, preacher, or parent...you are being obedient to The Perfect One; and by being obedient to Him, you also are being a perfect part of His Plan. This is one of many reasons why My Word commands you to be perfect, because as you strive to be perfect, you not only initiate very important facets of the Master Plan, you also become closer and more like God, and this is the ultimate goal.

Obedience—this word has gotten a bad connotation because of those in positions of authority who have abused their positions and have not earned respect nor obedience; and blind obedience to those in positions of power all over the world now is unwise and harmful. However as one realizes how God means well for all, and how He has a perfect place for all in His Will to reside, one knows that He can be trusted to any degree and whatever He wants for His people is the absolute best that they can expect.

So if being completely obedient to Him is the cost, the reward far exceeds the cost; and indeed as one explores the Mind of God, one realizes that there is no cost to obedience...just all the enjoyment of The Holy Spirit and freedom from sin and all that accompanies it. Obedience to this Ruler is the absolute highest of privileges afforded any human being, and by the act of obedience there is a falling of wisdom...like a cloud that comes to the obedient one and engulfs their spirit and prompts their minds to higher heights spiritually and deeper depths intellectually.

The complex puzzle of existence all begins to come together for the obedient one, and suddenly all physical and spiritual events seen and unseen become understandable from this new position of wisdom. Obedience renders strength both emotionally and spiritually, for as you follow the path of God you become aware of the Great Plan, and then you know in confidence that you are in a position of not only understanding but rightly dividing good and bad—truth and untruth. This knowledge elevates you above the masses who are confused and vacillating in their lives' purposes because they know no truth.

Once truth is accepted and becomes deeply rooted in the spirit and mind, the individual becomes unshakeable in their life's mission; and one becomes such that lies and deception roll off the back like water off the duck. Be not like the waves of the sea, tossed about by every whim of the currents and wind...rather gain a deep understanding of The Truth and be obedient to what you have learned; and be obedient to the One Who established it, and the One Who gave it to you in the form of His Word...for a constant reference in the event of a need for refreshing.

Disobedience is a lot of work and worry, for as one determines their own course, it must be considered, plotted, and executed; and when it goes wrong the consequences must be paid...and the costs associated with it. All human designed plans have flaws and none have, nor will one ever succeed perfectly unless it is in The Will of God, for God's Plan marches on to a predetermined end and to be outside the Plan leaves one alone, confused, and subject to exploitation; but to be in the Plan allows one to ride side by side with other believers to a good destination, and to walk side by side with The Father to the ultimate destination.

You have God's Word at your disposal....do the intelligent thing and absorb it, and live in obedience to it; and you will have the best that has been determined for you, and you will have no regrets.

This is Truth, live in it."
