“Do you know what to believe by the words of man? Do you accept the Divine Words of The Father-Creator through His sources to you? Do you believe the account of Jesus The Christ and of all other prophets Who lived on this Earth? Do you believe the wisdom given by The Holy Spirit through vessels throughout history, including the one taking these Letters from Me?

Can you see the Divine in all of it and can you see the Plan of God? Is your mind clouded by the evil teachings of man which extol the virtues of self and the works of Satan? Do you not see the great ignorance in these evil accounts of life that when questioned, fail monumentally?

Are you one who is not in contact with his sixth sense ‘spiritual touch’ and therefore must have all proven to you by physical evidence? Many people fall into this category and in failing to recognize The Divine they become fools, even as this is the very reason as to why they shun things that they cannot see and touch. For these and all other doubters here currently on Earth, I will give you some Truth that you can see on this page and prove through any amount of research that you wish to do.

If you pursue the Truth with an open heart and mind you will find it. Have you read of the healing miracles of Jesus The Christ and some of His followers? These are all true and the history is documented by those who knew Him, and some in the Roman government of the time, and some secular individuals through first and second hand witnessed accounts. The Son of Man was Divine and He lived on Earth in the flesh for the salvation of man.

Did He die on a cross, then buried, then rose again to human life...then later returned to further instruct man? Yes He did, and the written accounts of this are many. The Shroud of Turin is the true burial cloth that covered His body, and due to the great energy required to reactivate His cells—the evidence was etched into the fibers of the cloth.

Was there a virgin birth? Yes, and this is written in the accounts of the followers of Christ and written in the archives of the Church at that time. Joseph was an older man with children of his own, and he never consummated the human wedding...not for the entire time that he lived. The Holy Mother was never breached by man and when it came time for her to rise to Heaven, she did not die; for death for the Holy Mother was not in God’s Plan—thus He translated her such as He had done with saints of the past, and such as the Bride of Christ will be soon.

There are written accounts of all this, but the fullest and that with the most detail comes from the visions and hearings of the great vessel of God—Maria Valtorta. You will find no substantiated account of the Holy Mother’s death, nor of the location of her body which would have been a great priority of the early Church who witnessed the Divinity of her Son.

Have you seen the reports of the discovery of the Ark of Noah? These are real and the science clearly bears it out; so My children, the flood did indeed occur and the Love and Justice of God is the same now as it was then, so be ready for the end of Earth's time as written by the prophets and apostles of God.

Salvation is real...many 'near death experiences' are real...visions of Heaven and Hell have been prevalent in these late days; and the trauma on the Creation, completely unexplained by man's science, has been clearly identified with growing frequency.

In looking back to the time of the Old Covenant, you see many discoveries of physical remains that corroborate the events foretold in the Word of God; and with proactive research and discovery you can find many monuments to God that were constructed many years ago that still stand today with little influence of time. But look at yourself and the world around you, and even further to what you can see by your limited eyes; these are living artifacts of the Presence of God and they speak clearly and boldly of God's Mind and of His Plan. The wise will see and understand their place in It.

I grant you wisdom for the asking."
