

ANGELS AND YOU

This message on Angels, in answer to questions on a fasting day.....

“When an angel physically moves between the realms, this reaches the limits of the Covenant; and one thing you must realize is that there is a quid pro quo for activities such as these. This is why these crossings are rare, because whenever I allow the crossing of one of My angels, I must then allow a crossing of one of adversity.

Therefore you see, until the Covenant ends, that these crossings will only be allowed when situations are immediate and intense. This does not however limit any of the activity prompted by your prayers in the other realms outside the physical realm of Earth. So continue to pray mightily for angelic intercession for you and others.

Dreams do not have this restriction, so you may have an abundance of spiritual dreams at no cost of the balance of good and evil.

When an angel crosses, it can be as a result of your prayers, your distress, your needs, or the needs of others; and this can occur as well through the intercessions of others on Earth or in other realms. Recall the great angelic wars mentioned in the Bible and you will now see why My good angels could not cross with impunity...especially as it concerned issues of great importance such as those that actually change major physical events.

My angels are now freeing up due to the battle winding down in Heaven—in that now there are only a handful of great and evil angels left, and of course Satan. Thus your calls for intercession in realms outside of the earthly realms will now be met by immediate actions that will evolve solutions, so use your prayers frequently as tools for the help and aid of those in the Realms of Correction, Outer Darkness, the Marginal Heaven, and all other realms that are not now inhabited by evil.

I am so very sorry that your realms have befallen such pain and suffering, it was not to be so. You have great power and authority in your righteousness, so use it graciously, mercifully, and powerfully.

Now a word about your individual angels or those that you call guardians....they have no restrictions on their efforts to help and aid you other than by your tepid faith or unbelief; such is also the case with demons that have been assigned through generational curses and the like. There is no quid pro quo regarding these good and bad influences. They are completely under your control through your willful choices and your state of righteousness, holiness, and purity.

These are words directly from the pages of the Covenant for your knowledge and edification. You may release this to the world.

Use your power aggressively in these final days.”
