

THE LAST

To all of you around the world who view this site that contains the true Words of God to His people in these last days...I come to you with a heavy heart and tell you that there will be no more public Messages from God for all people. He has informed me that this phase and method of delivering the Truth to a dying planet has ended, and He has asked me to write the final letter. He will then take all these Letters, and a correspondent book called “Choice”, and have them published and circulated all around the world in many languages—then the end will come.

As it is now, you will see the events of the two-year ‘Calamity’ unfold before your eyes, then the seven years of the ‘Time of Trouble’ that is mentioned in the Bible, then the ‘Second Coming’ of Christ—and many will be lost...but many will be saved as well, as they study the Whole Truth and understand it, and live it. These sources mentioned here, plus the Bible, and all Words of God given throughout the ages are the Truth; and all those who know it and live it, will be saved. Those who ignore it, and think that they are ‘good’ enough, or who simply deny the existence of God willfully will be lost to an unending eternity of pain and suffering. God is a God of Love, but He also is a God of Justice, Law, and Equity.....you must study the depths of His Word to understand this principle; and this is absolutely necessary for your salvation.

About me: I am just a normal human being, a college educated successful business man with a family, but with the gift of ‘hearing’ and on occasion ‘seeing’ through visions and dreams. I did not ask for these gifts, and was not always aware of them acutely until the night before my young child died in a tragic accident. That night as I put my child to bed, I then turned at the door to give one final look as a proud father, The Holy Spirit said, “This is the last time you will see your ‘child’ in bed”. When I heard this audibly in the center of my mind, my strength left my body and I became cold, but I did not think that it was anything but an errant thought. It now has been many years since my child died, and my communion with God has been on and off, depending on my level of righteousness, holiness, purity, love, and obedience.

Mostly, I have been a rebellious spirit and a sinner, even though I was raised with the knowledge of God’s Word. However, I viewed it as incomplete, because as I perceived and was taught, all the puzzle pieces did not fit together and some were missing. It was only when I pursued God and the whole Truth and repented for my sins, did God begin to reveal it to me; and now the entire puzzle fits together perfectly, and I know God’s Plan for man and the extent of His love for all of us...as well as the answers to the most perplexing questions that have plagued man from his inception and I am eternally grateful. However, with this increased knowledge comes a heightened responsibility, and being judged by the strictest interpretation of the New Covenant, and I have failed many times; but each time I have ashamedly picked myself up, repented, did my expiation, (which at times has been extremely painful) and continued on the path of wisdom to My Father...sometimes in His grace and mercy and sometimes wondering. Now my goal, until I take my last breath, (which will be soon for me and all humanity) is to give God my gift of perfection and love with no excuses. As I do this, God raises me up in the spirit, and perfection becomes a more attainable target.

I now feel strongly that it is necessary to give all people a few of the truths that I have realized through these revelations of God for the edification, knowledge, and salvation of all poor souls in this cursed world.

1. There is a God and a Trinity, and due to our simplicity we have always found it difficult to understand Them, but They are real and are here, as are the created Angels and Great Spirits, and Heaven.
2. Satan and his demon angels are real and so is Hell, and it is far worse than any human's imagination can conjure, and it is forever. I saw a brief vision several years ago for only a few seconds, of my sister-in-law in Hell, and I had to cry out immediately to The Lord to stop it...it was horrific, and it is still emblazoned in my mind.
3. There are many things that God hates, but near the top of the list is 'pride of life and becoming one's own god'. This leads to a failed life and a destination of pain, unless there is repentance and expiation equal to the sin, and the ripple effects thereof. Many people, especially the ones who deny God's existence and/or who arrogantly espouse evolution, cannot accept any higher control, and they value the human existence based on the perceived intellectual capabilities and physical characteristics of each, yet this is great folly. This is a form of idolatry which is mentioned in the original Ten Commandments. God values the heart most highly.
4. We are created beings, as are all universes and all life. We humans have been given the opportunity through free choice to attain heights and communion with God to a degree that few creations have. But along with this great opportunity comes great responsibility, and the main one hinges upon free will. We can save or doom ourselves by our choices exercised every second of every day.
5. All that we have lived and experienced, is kept in the annals of Heaven, and will be reviewed with us after we die. This will determine our final destination.
6. All those still alive on Earth, in the Realms of Correction or in Heaven have the everlasting opportunity to learn and grow to be as God is...never attaining the status of God, but growing ever closer to Him in stature and understanding.
7. All good, in accordance with God's Word, brings rewards; but all evil brings punishment...even to eternity.
8. The necessary 'Triad of Salvation' is righteousness, holiness, and purity; and there is no sluggard's path to Heaven.
9. God is Love...but a love far beyond our understanding; and everything that He does, even though many times we humans perceive differently, is for good.
10. There have been prophets all throughout history, and some religions accept them, and some have not; but this does not dilute nor diminish these Words that God has given, in a very timely fashion to his creations.
11. When Jesus said, "Be ye perfect", this was not a polite suggestion, it was a loving mandate.
12. The Holy Mother of Jesus has visited the Earth many times, and continues to intercede for us all, in her infinite love and mercy. For all who attain Heaven, she will be their permanent Mother—a tremendous blessing.
13. Throughout history many have foretold the end of Earth's time. This time however, it is factual and those who live now will see the final events, beginning very soon and continuing on with increasing ferocity.

14. We humans are all eternal beings; when the flesh dies, the spirit and soul live on.

There are many other truths that all need to know and they can be found in all God's Word, and with a special illumination through these Letters; and I beg you all to pursue them. My heart dies when I think of all the poor souls falling to Hell each day, and all who are there now...when all they needed to do was to accept the Truth of their existence and embrace God. God's Heart also cries for each of the lost, and He will forever hold this knowledge. Please, please, open you minds and search for the Truth. All who diligently search will find...this is a promise of The One Whose promises are true and unchangeable.

Love conquers all and love is the very reason for our existence, and I love all whom God has created, and only wish desperately and fervently that all know the Truth, and die in the Mercy of God.

Please heed these words and become saved, and I and others will be your forever companions in Heaven.
