

TAKE WHAT BELONGS TO YOU

“Who are you, that The Infinite One loves you? Out of the billions of human creatures, what have you done to warrant this Divine attention? Compared to the Divine Spirits, you are as a grain of sand. Then why has God bestowed such blessings and opportunities upon you, so that you can be holy and lifted up?”

You were given a spirit and soul, in addition to your body; and they reflect the Image of God. You were given Divine Love, and the possibility of eternal existence in the realm of the Holies where saints and the Divine Spirits abide. You have been given the opportunity to grow in the spirit and in physical molecules, such that the end of it is a glorified body, and a discerning spirit that can navigate the pathways of God, and discern all that He has made.

You, in your ethereal state, cannot conceive of this; but accept it, for it has been ordained.

This is the Master Plan, but the variable is you. You can save or damn yourself by your life on Earth. For within you is the knowledge of God, and the propensity to follow. But also within you, is the knowledge of good and evil; and you have been gifted with free will. Thus your choices, every moment, govern your life—and in turn determine your eternal destination.

God blessed you with this great freedom; but as with all things great, along with them comes a great responsibility; and in your case, the responsibility denied or minimized, results in eternal pain and suffering...whereas accepting your responsibility and walking with God, and living according to His Covenants results in an eternal existence filled with joy and wonder.

You navigate your own course, and you are the captain of your vessel; and no one else can take this from you, or do it for you. So choose to live a life for God, and plunge into His Word, and learn all that pleases Him...and you will be greatly blessed.

God is not stingy with blessings, for in His loving state, He waits for opportunities to bestow them on His beloved creations. Please God and take these blessings, for they are as real as the ground underneath you. Try God and see how you will receive peace and love and hope and security; He will not disappoint.

Be wise and live for Him and not yourself, for you cannot open the gates of Heaven, and you cannot bless yourself with the eternal substance of things that last—things not of this world.

Living for self is hollow and unfulfilling, yet living for God and others, is where you were created to be. It seems like a sacrifice at first, when one converts to a blessed way of life; then when wisdom and grace come, one realizes that self is much greater enhanced by spiritual blessings, and physical existence is far more secure.

You cannot fight against these fundamental and eternal laws of Creation and win. You may feel that, for a time you hold yourself up, but this only because God is teaching you lessons, or He allows it through the curse whereby the blessings do not come from Him.

Love God, for He loves you. Serve Him and reap the rewards that sit, waiting to fall from Heaven.

Peace to you.”
